All VHS Videocassettes are NTSC format (suitable for North American VCRs). In original slipcases as shown. The Advanced Birding Video Series with Jon L. Dunn sets a new standard for video in bird identification, using slow motion, stop action and split screen special effects. 14 species included in Vol 2. (1999) TRUMPETER BLUES Creating a wonderfully sensitive nature documentary, poetically scripted narration and atmospheric music backs magnificently crystalline views of the trumpeter swan, a graceful, white-hued bird with an amazing eight-foot wing span. Picture postcard Yellowstone Park vistas of snowcapped mountains rising against azure skies set the mood for the soothing narrator's finely-tuned delivery that subtly inspires appreciation and awe for this endangered species. (approx 1980s). THE LOONS ON GOLDEN POND chronicles all four seasons in the wild with this loon pair, mated for life, as they court, bathe, dive and hunt, incubate their two eggs, listen to their mournful calls, watch the chick grow. Special video: runs twice, once with narration and then again with only the sights and sounds of the loons and their world. (1992) Shipped as a set.
