It was the best of times, it was the.....nope, it WAS the best of times. We had the best music. We had the hottest cars. We wore the sharpest clothes. We had the most fun of any generation. The girls were the prettiest and the boys were the manliest. Our school was the best in town. If you asked someone from any year, any high school, any town this would generally sum up how they felt.

North, South, East or West and whatever the years that you walked the halls of your school, many of experiences were probably very close. The names, the years, the part of the country may have been different, but the students, the teachers and many of the events were things that we all had in common. Culturally, the times may have changed, but every school had its share of the good, the bad, the awkward, the shy, the intellectual and all of the rest of the ingredients that filled the melting pot that was high school.
