About the Book Plagiarism--An Emmett Till Continuum: Physical and Intellectual Lynchings is an edited book, consisting of contributions by an array of established, respected people, all committed to exposing the crime of plagiarism in hopes of calling it to a halt. This book, surrounding the Till story, has evolved into a trilogy. Part I of the trilogy, Emmett Till: Sacrificial Lamb of the Civil Rights Movement (1994), is a reprint of the 1988 Ford Doctoral Dissertation, "Emmett Till: The Impetus for the Modern Civil Rights Movement." Untainted, it serves as the definitive work resurrecting and establishing the lynching of 14-year-old Emmett Louis "Bobo" Till as the true catalyst of the Civil Rights Movement. It was written during a time when there was no competition for taking this unpopular, challenging stance about the role of this tragic incident in igniting the Movement. In fact, many then shunned this interpretation; however, since that time, many have latched on to the idea and are now claiming, as one is described as doing, to be "setting the record straight," about the true catalyst of the Movement. The documentation and findings are presented in the second part of the Till trilogy, The Definitive Emmett Till: Passion & Battle of a Woman for Truth & Intellectual Justice (2006), wherein lies the whole truth. Plagiarism--An Physical and Intellectual Lynchings: An Emmett Till Continuum, the third part of the Till trilogy, is a three part edited book: Part I--A Decade of Early Till Publications (1988-1998); Part II--Exposing Plagiarism: A Time to End; and Part III--Common Grounds: Intellectual and Creative Lynchings. The contributors in the volume, endorsers included, all collectively objectify the attack on plagiarism, as messages for the most part here, unlike those in the other two Till books, come from other than the victim.
